

From: scott swentek
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/25/02 10:11am
Subject: remedy for microsoft monopoly i have used microsoft operating systems since DOS 3.2...& i must say that the products were far more secure & bugfree when there were effective competitors in the marketplace...when i now use one of microsoft's later windows operating systems i must attempt to disable many aspects of it...such as the browser & email functionality...because those products are simply too unreliable & insecure for any rational person to use...microsoft's products would greatly benefit from the type of rigorous competition that occurs in a non-monopoly marketplace...please consider breaking microsoft up into distinct...competitive...entities